*www.adobe.com/products/photoshop.html * * * # Correct a fallen bowl Any of you who have ever painted a bowl using the airbrush paintbrush tool have undoubtedly hit a stray splotch. Hitting just the right spot can be difficult, and in the process, can bend or dent a bowl. If you need to replace a bowl without breaking it, here's how to correct the damage. Take a paper towel and carefully clean up any paint splatter from the bowl. This allows you to clean off any paint, and from there, you can clear the fallen paint splatter off with a damp paper towel. Note that you may need to push the paint splatter to the edges of the bowl so that it can be removed. * * * # Create a cartoon From time to time, you may find that it would be fun to use some of the pictures that you've created over the years as a background for your own cartoons. You can use such pictures as backdrops or as single frames from which you can make your own cartoons. The first step is to store these images. To do this, save a copy of your favorite images onto a DVD, Blu-ray disc, or some other storage media. (After you insert the drive into your computer, you don't need to format the drive; you don't need to do anything to the drive except make it part of your computer, and this is a simple process.) Next, you want to duplicate an image onto a new layer that you can edit. To do this, open a picture and copy it by pressing Ctrl+C (⌘-C). Next, you can select the picture you just copied by holding down Ctrl+A (⌘-A) and clicking the picture's thumbnail on the Layers panel. Next, you want to create a new layer for your image. To do this, click the New Layer icon in the tools panel. Choose black and white (BW) as the default color. Select this layer and duplicate it (Ctrl+D or ⌘-D). By doing this, you now have two identical layers. Next, you need to create another layer that is a transparent overlay of your original image. To do this, you need to create a new layer as you did in the previous step. Click the New Layer icon
