SpeedUsb2CdDvd is designed to backup your USB keys content in few seconds. It can also help you to split your files on your media according to your needs. You can also backup the complete content of your CD or DVD (stored on your hard disk), or only specific folders from your CD. The program is written in C# and uses a single EXE file. It does not need any external software or driver. It has two steps: Backup and Recovery. You can recover only the content of your USB keys (stored on your hard drive) using the software. For example, you can recover all of your files of the USB keys you've connected to your computer, or you can recover just the content of a folder or a specific DVD, using the recovery section of the software. You can also fix some error with your files, the program will help you to identify these errors and clean them. Are you tired of your files being corrupt? The program saves your files in a brand new way by using error correction techniques. So, your files will be as error free as possible. Are you tired of having your USB keys being full? The program lets you define the size of the data that will be stored on the USB keys. Are you tired of having to reformat your USB keys to use them again? You will no longer have to reformat your USB keys since the program supports both EFS and FAT32 formats. Are you tired of having to use media such as CD or DVD? You will no longer have to use these media since the program supports both CD and DVD formats. Are you tired of struggling with files being corrupted? You will no longer have to struggle with files since the program uses error detection techniques to restore your files. Are you tired of having to format your

USB keys every time you want to use them? No need to reformat your USB keys since the software does it for you. Are you tired of getting your files stuck on media such as CDs or DVDs? The program will be your first solution for your CD or DVD issues, as it will solve the problems automatically. Are you tired of burning your files on media such as CDs? No need to burn files on CDs since the program lets you burn them on CD or DVD directly. Are you tired of having a CD or DVD stuck in your car? No need to
