A great utility for you to convert Notes to Word file. With this Notes to Word Converter, you can extract the emails from IBM Notes, then save it into a DOC file. Key Features: Notes to Word Converter is a reliable program designed to help you extract data from IBM Notes backup files and save them as Microsoft Word format to your computer. The application allows you to extract selective information from the NSF file, then convert it to a DOC/DOCX format. Reliable file scanner and data detector The NSF files are specific database storage documents, that you can create with IBM Notes. In other words, it can be a backup file for data saved within the email client. However, in case you need to access the aforementioned data, IBM Notes must already be installed on your computer. Transferring the information to a more accessible file format allows you to view it much more easily. Thus, the software prompts you to load the desired NSF file, which it can then scan and display the detected information. The email client database file can contain data regarding received messages, drafts, sent emails, follow up items, junk mail, deleted messages or folders. After the scan the software can display the contents of the NSF file in a tree structure, for you to inspect and analyze. Data preview and quick conversion When the file scanning is finished, you may switch over to the 'Emails Preview' tab and expand every node in the tree structure of the email database. The software can indicate how many items are stored in each category, then display them in the area on the right. You may select every item in particular, that you wish to extract from the database. Next, all you need to do is click on the Start Conversion button and watch as the process progresses. Accessible data backup Saving data into an accessible file type can come in handy in cases when you need a quick data recovery, or if you need to view it and you do not have the proper software. SysTool Lotus Notes to Word Converter Free Download allows you to create an email backup, by extracting data from NSF database files and saving them into Word format.
