Using a draft or a draft file is a common practice among professional writers, essayists and bloggers. Usually, these types of files help us to write more efficiently by speeding up the process of writing. In the past, using a draft was difficult to achieve since most of the editors did not support the idea of using a draft. It seemed that the idea was only for bloggers and other different people who are not very good at writing. Fortunately, the modern technology is able to help us get a draft of our work within a few seconds. Today, Evernote is one of the most used tools around the globe. It makes it possible to work with both the text and images you save in Evernote. So, you can use it to save your work as a draft in order to obtain more efficient writing. As mentioned earlier, using a draft is not for everyone since it can make writing more stressful. Especially if you are using it for professional purposes, you will not only need to be good at writing, but also have some luck to get things done in the first place. However, you should not worry since the modern technology has stepped in to help you get a draft file of your work. In this article, we will discuss the features of the system and the steps to follow in order to get started with the system. Draft features in Evernote If you are using the Evernote application on your mobile device, then you will be able to get access to the draft feature on all mobile devices. If you are using the Evernote application on your desktop, then you will be able to use the draft feature on your desktop only. Additionally, if you are using the Evernote application on a tablet, then you will be able to use the draft feature on your tablet. To access the draft feature, all you need to do is to follow these simple steps: Open the application and then click on the account icon. Now, all you need to do is to enter in the draft folder in order to open it. The process is very easy and can be done in a few
