Q: JavaFX: Binding multiple Elements of an Object to one string (PropertyList in an Object) I would like to bind some parts of the properties of an object to a String, but I seem to be struggling to make it work. I am trying to bind a string to 3 Elements of the same object, so that it looks like this: prList.add("PR Name: " + prName + " " + "PR Desc: " + prDesc + " " + "PR Plats: " + prPlats); I have tried using StringProperty and StringListProperty, but they both give me an error, saying that an array of Strings is not the same as a StringProperty. I am implementing a PropertyList in an Object, so I can't really change the Object itself, and I can't change the way my data is stored in a different class. Is there any way to bind multiple elements of an Object to one string, or at least a way to wrap the data and create a StringProperty? A: You can cast ObjectProperty to a StringProperty and use reflection to obtain property values. private void addPropertyListToString(ObjectProperty objectProperty) { String propertyName = objectProperty.getName(); Class propertyClass = objectProperty.getValue().getClass(); for (PropertyDescriptor pd : Introspector.getBeanInfo(propertyClass).getPropertyDescriptors()) { if (propertyName.equals(pd.getName())) { try { Method getterMethod = propertyClass.getMethod("get" + pd.getName(), new Class[]{}); Object getterValue = getterMethod.invoke(objectProperty.getValue()); StringProperty stringProperty = new SimpleStringProperty(getterValue.toString()); stringProperty.setValue(getterValue);

The code I am using is: $sql = "UPDATE videos SET Done = 1 WHERE ParentID = 10"; The form I am using is: I am still fairly new to PHP and would like to find out how I can make this work. I would prefer to use a HTML form with PHP. A: Try changing your SQL to $sql = "UPDATE videos SET Done = 1 WHERE ParentID = '10'"; Add single quotes to the field that has the value 10. Make sure your form also has a submit button (since you're using a POST request). If you're getting any SQL errors, you may want to be more specific. Q: How to extract the last index of string when it is the first in python Assuming I have the following: a = ['SomeSomeString','111','222','333','someotherstring','another111'] how can I extract the last index of string when it is the first in a list? The expected result is: 1 4 5 7 8 I tried the following but it doesn't work: import re
