Pieter Burger Pieter Burger (1598, Zwolle - 1650, Leiden) was a Dutch Golden Age painter. Biography According to Houbraken he was born in Amsterdam, the son of Simon Burger, an import merchant and secretary to the States of Holland. Like his father, he was also a trader and was known as Sibbert, in Leiden. He is mentioned in a church register in the year 1634 as having been a Leiden registered student at the Amsterdam school of the painter Maerten van den Bosch, the painter's nephew, as he was living on the St. Anna's merchant's row in Leiden at the time. The list of students in the register has not survived, but an engraving, possibly by Burger, of the "Birth of St. Nicholas" (of 1636) is still extant. He is thought to be the same Pieter Burger who is mentioned in an inventory in the year 1652 of a daughter of Noort Onderhagen, who owned a scroll showing a view of the city of Leiden. The inventory, which was auctioned in The Hague in 1825, listed 6 paintings by the artist: 7 x 4.5 m and 6 x 2.2 m, sold for 1,000 guilders. It also mentioned a painting that he had done for Wouter Crabeth in 1636, and it was then sold as well. According to the RKD he became a member of the Leiden Guild of St. Luke in 1636. He was buried on the 4th of November 1650 in the St. Nicholas's Church, Leiden. References External links Pieter Burger on Artnet
