An updated and simpler interface is featured in AutoCAD 2015. AutoCAD for AutoCAD Civil 3D Development on AutoCAD Civil 3D began in 2007. The latest version was released in 2015. Civil 3D is a product line of AutoCAD that delivers complementary 3D modeling and design for civil engineering, architecture, and interior design. Civil 3D is a follow-up product to the 2003 introduction of AutoCAD Civil 3D. Civil 3D 2015 is a desktop and web application and provides the same features as AutoCAD Civil 3D 2014, plus a host of new capabilities. The most notable enhancements include the ability to 3D print from a Civil 3D model and add site surveys to the model, as well as a simplified user interface. Civil 3D 2015 was also the first release to offer a unified price for both AutoCAD and Civil 3D. (The free version of AutoCAD Civil 3D can be upgraded to full version AutoCAD Civil 3D for $999.) As of 2015, Civil 3D was offered as a commercial product with a perpetual license. There is no charge for using the Civil 3D 2015 software. AutoCAD LT is an entry-level, fully featured CAD product that runs on Windows computers. The latest version of AutoCAD LT is AutoCAD LT 2016. The AutoCAD LT 2016 desktop app has been replaced with the free AutoCAD LT web app. AutoCAD LT 2015, AutoCAD LT 2014, and AutoCAD LT 2013 are the current versions. AutoCAD LT is a product line of AutoCAD that delivers the same core capabilities as AutoCAD LT 2013. The free AutoCAD LT web app includes many of the features of the desktop app. For more information, visit the AutoCAD LT Web App page. AutoCAD Home AutoCAD Home is a single-user edition of AutoCAD for Windows, available in three versions (Home, Home Essential, and Home Essential Plus). It is a fully featured, high-end solution for architects, engineers, and interior designers. For details on AutoCAD Home, see the AutoCAD Home products page. The AutoCAD Home Essential Plus is a web-based version of AutoCAD that allows users to work on a number of projects concurrently. For details on AutoCAD Home Essential Plus, see the Auto

Living Man's best friend, the dog, is the fastest growing pet in America, according to the American Pet Products Association. This means more dog food for you! In a recent survey by Zignature, a digital signature service, we found that 65% of dog owners expect to spend more on their pets in the next year, compared to just 21% of pet owners who expect to spend less. Most of us have at some point had a pet in our lives, but what's often overlooked is that the average dog's life is 12-15 years, while our life expectancy is almost 80. So, when choosing a dog and bringing it home for the first time, you should ask yourself: "What will I do with this dog for the next 15 years?" The answer to that question will determine how much you will spend to feed it, and how much you will spend on its health care and preventive care. With a busy family and work commitments, how do you find time to be active? A simple 30 minute brisk walk will do wonders for your health and clear your mind. Every day our kids face new ca3bfb1094
