There is another game. May I play it? No, of course not. I cannot play such games. Allow me to play. The game is wonderful! It has all the magical weapons we have now! And beautiful magic cards! And the characters are cute! I have created my own character, and I have become a protector of the world. It has become a game of life or death, and I have become a god! The game is wonderful. But why is it disappearing? Stop crying. Stop crying. Hurry up! Please go home. Please go home. I can't go home now. The game ends. The players wake up on a parallel world. The world where there are no monsters. This is a historical world. The question now is: "If the monsters disappeared, what would our world look like now?" □□ □□□ Other Japanese Sites (in Japanese) The city "□□" is a mythical city which exists parallel to our world. In the city there are many monsters, demons, and humans. In this city, also, there is a merchant, merchant, a merchant. If you are a human and look at his picture, what will you see? This is the story of merchant, merchant. Other places I appreciate your kind support, so I have prepared 6 other games which are related to monsters and games. About the author: Hi, I am Yuta.
