going.

EMPTY THE INBOX: All emails are deleted in the database.

A casual game: To pass the time you will have to read emails and open them up to complete missions; a simple and leisurely game.

Explanation of each level:

- 1. Storyline: The very first level requires you to go to the North Capitol Building. Your target is the House Republicans, and to accomplish that you have to send some emails and take some photos.
- 2. House Democrats: The next level requires you to go to the House Democrats, and to perform a similar mission. But this time, you get to destroy some machines.
- 3. Senate Democrats: The next level requires you to go to the Senate Democrats, and to destroy more computers.
- 4. Proofread emails: The next level requires you to go to the House and Senate and you'll have to proofread all their messages. The second half of this mission requires you to shoot at a clock, while doing so you are bombarded by 40 remaining emails.
- 5. The end comes: It's a high variance level, but you're now just confirming emails. Avoid too much Gmail spam.

It's been a wonderful weekend, the perfect antidote to everything that is wrong in the world. I left on Friday to drive to Arizona, where I spent Saturday and Sunday at Mt. Lemmon. I love California and I love the Pacific coast but if I have to choose between Phoenix and Tucson I will take Tucson every time. I prefer the low humidity, and I like the mountains, and I especially like Mt. Lemmon, which is a private mountain for rich people (or rich people who are weird) and I, for one, am allowed to climb them. We stopped to hike, to picnic, and to look at the stars. My brother and I rappelled down some spots, which was fun but I

The controls are forgiving and simple, with a quick and fluid camera, and an easy-to-read interface, this alone should make people who have trouble with game controls want to try. The game is well-paced enough to keep people interested, and the storyline is well written and a bit surprising. There's a significant lack of replay value, but I don't think people will care about that too much, as there are enough ways for people to make new characters.(8/10) Play time of the game: 4 to 8 hours You are paying: $30-50 depending on your downloadable content You have described: Feature: Pacing: Audio: Flow: Replay value: Expansiveness: Combat: Friends & Community: Product Identity: Mecha: Gameplay: Graphics: Violence: Sex: Language: "The game is well-paced enough to keep people interested, and the storyline is well written and a bit surprising." Casting Violence & Scariness "Violence" There's a fair amount of violence, and though it's rarely gory and never gratuitous or overtly sexual, it is sometimes intense and dark. Someone is gagged and occasionally tied up, but otherwise, there's a mix of cop-chase, eye-gouging, and throwing objects. It's not the most violent game I've played, but it's definitely far from kid-friendly. Overall violence isn't particularly bad, but it's not particularly good, either. "Scariness" There are plenty of bad things you can do to your partner, including eye-gouging, choking, and in one case, stabbing. Plus, there's the danger of having a fist or an axe come close to your face. If you're going for a particularly horror-like game, this probably isn't the one to play, but for other people, not a big deal. "Mild" There's not a lot of nudity, though you do see a few women with extremely low-cut tops. There's also a bit of implied nudity through suggestive gestures. I wouldn't get too offended here, but you can choose to censor the more steamy parts of the game if that's important to you. "

Pages There will be steel dry land and even steel deep water, and even in the midst of them there is where you will seek shelter with angels and not with the Fallen. Man has his latest war to win now - no bow, just a fist to beat down the face of the enemy. Some are born twisted, some are born broken: And they are born twisted in the kernals, and their bones are made of water. great, and the hands of the little shall be there. The sword is the ever-cleaving weapon of Man, and the reaper comes to harvest the orchards of seeds. With the great weapons you will fight, who say the word of the eight most high King. The lowly is fired with the endless glory of the great swords. The sword comes down like a plague as on the blessed, but then they will be torn to shreds and dust. "Dust to dust." The eternal Battlefields This is where you will fight - must fight - against the hosts of the Fallen angels, for that is the war for being Man. A place of heart - and loveless - battlefields for the mortal. The sword is the ever-cleaving weapon of Man, and the reaper comes to harvest the orchards of seeds. The battlefield is where the Fallen angels are so powerful, and the engines of Man's value are so old, that Man must fight against their hosts and remove them from the spheres of eternal glory, and toss them to the depths of the Falls. The battlefield is where the mortal is so demonized by the touch of the Devil, by the disruption of all that is holy, that Man must fight against them to remove them from the spheres of eternal glory. The battlefield is where the mortal is so demonized by the touch of the Devil, by the disruption of all that is holy, that Man must fight against them to remove them from the spheres of eternal glory. The battlefield is made from the eons-old stone, both holy and unholy, where the realities are meditated and this place longs to be touched.
