To many, a Star Wars movie isn't complete until it includes some iconic and memorable words that come from the mouths of characters. Here are the Top 15. 1. "May the Force be with you..." The phrase that is heard in most Star Wars movies by Princess Leia and elsewhere by the characters. It's a simple phrase that really has no meaning, but it's the one we've all grown up hearing and using so much so that we really didn't notice how it wasn't so great, until it began to make the cut offs. 2. "Empire Strikes Back" The sequel that started it all. The original movie that makes it sound like the galaxy has to a big issue with its power being swallowed up by darkness. We all thought that was really cool. 3. "Luke, I am your father." After the birth of Luke Skywalker in Star Wars: Episode IV - A New Hope, his father Han Solo is shocked and amazed to learn that he really is. This moment is one of the most recognized of the franchise, but was actually widely believed to be untrue - after all, Harrison Ford didn't find out that he was Carrie Fisher's father until Star Wars: Episode III - Reunion. 4. "You fight with the Force." Months after learning that he is the father of Luke Skywalker, Han Solo found out that he could use his Jedi powers to fight with the Force. "It's stronger than what you can do, kid," he told Luke, since he had no idea of the extent of his powers. 5.
