Susan Swarda Winfrey (born June 16, 1963) better known by her stage name Suzy X (formerly Suzy, Suezy, Swarda, Suzanne, or Suezy X) is an Australian former pornographic actress and former alternative music artist from Sydney who is the CEO and founder of the podcast network GSN and the co-host of the CNBC/GSN show Memorable Movie Moments (later renamed Stars in Their Eyes). Heterosexual adult film career Winfrey originally started out as a musician. In the early 1990s, she had a number of small club tours playing keyboard, harmonica and percussion; this gave her an opportunity to meet and bed film directors and managers, much like the way that closeted gay musicians would sleep with more liberal straight musicians. After impressing the director of the first AEA awards, then AEA Award winner, British porn star Sean Michaels, with her energy on the keyboard and watching her dance around, he convinced her to become a porn actress, even though he didn't think she was sexy enough to be a porn actress. Due to favorable reviews of her first two movies, Flat Fee and "Suzy Q.," she was signed with Black Lizard, where she made movies with Antonio Mike (AF1-AF5), Bert Braun, and several other directors including Pedro. In 1993, Suzy X made her gay porn debut in The Romanian's Secret at the Sundance Theater in New York City with Le Paris-based director Pierre Duroy. She would also act in Gerard Gevry's Gentleman Anal. In 1995, Suzy X starred in Sammy StaGuer and Sander Stamm's Lick Me: The First Time coming to the Sundance Theater in Manhattan. She would also feature on stage in The One Night Stand at Club Cabaret in New York. During her career, she had a large fanbase in Europe. At the time of her retirement, Suzy X was often in demand for live on-stage performances during gay events. From 1993-1995, Suzy X accumulated 321 adult video appearances, generally appearing on the cover of several magazines and having one or more movies in various releases and became one of the most popular stars in the industry, both heterosexual and gay. In 1995, she was nominated for one AVN Award - Best Couples Sex Scene - and was awarded three 1994 titles - Best Actress (Suezy X - The Porn Star's First Lesbian Experience),

I need to figure out a good way to check if the cursor is in the right place in a tkinter window. If the user is simply dragging the mouse from one window to another, how can I know where the mouse cursor is at any moment of time? I need to know whether the cursor is left of the left-most scrollbar, right of the rightmost scrollbar, or whether it is centered somewhere in between. I could set tags on the scrollbars and the bounds of the window, and then check the tags every time I receive a mouse click event. The problem with this is that I don't know how to tell which scrollbar the cursor is over (there are two scrollbars, and the user can't tell which one the cursor is over). I don't want to hard-code my own scrollbar, since that would require me to rewrite the scrollbar for each and every window that I create, and it seems like there should be a better way to do this. A: It is possible to do it as you suggested. I would add a couple of methods to
