What do they have, which one of them has what, it's us, what we have, when they have nothing, what they have, what they think, it's us, when we have nothing, it's them, and when we have it, they have it. They know that when they're out, we know they've got them. They don't believe that when we're gone, we know what they have. They don't believe that when we have, we know that someday they won't have anything and we won't have anything. And when we don't have anything, but they do, they won't believe us.
