I would like to be with someone in whose heart there is more peace than anger. Not with someone who is ready to fight everyone who is not like me, but with someone who will help me see what I see, who will understand what I see and see what I see. I would like to be with someone who, seeing the blood on my hands, will not say: "You yourself are to blame, you knew what you were doing." I would like to be with someone who says, "I'm glad you got through this. I'm glad you survived. I'm glad we're moving on."
